COLBY COLLEGE

MRS. LEOTA WADLEIGH

Dedication

In appreciation for unselfish service in a role vital to all phases of high school education, and for promotion of true scholarship in our lives, we, the Class of 1963, take great pride in dedicating our yearbook to Mrs. Leota Wadleigh.

MR. NEAL T. SKILLINGS
Principal

To the Members of the Class of 1963:

Shortly you will have terminated your career at Wachusett Regional High School. As you go out into the world, go with a feeling of confidence. You are graduating from one of the finest secondary schools in the country. If you have spent your time here to good advantage and have done your school work conscientiously and well, you should be prepared to face the future without trepidation.

Whenever you look at this yearbook in the years to come, we hope it will bring you many pleasant memories.

Best wishes to you all.

Neal T. Skillings

MR. MARTIN F. WHITE
Assistant Principal

To the Class of 1963:

You have now completed an important phase of your formal education. I trust that each member of this graduating class has thoughtfully and carefully planned his future course of endeavors. I hope this plan includes further formal study.

The current period of history presents challenges of fateful import to us all. Research in science, technology, sociology and other allied fields has profoundly changed our mode of life both socially and economically; and with each new discovery adding to the complexity of our daily living, it has become increasingly important that each of you further your education.

The future belongs to you—the youth and pride of this great nation. May God's blessing be with you in whatever you do or wherever you may go.

Best wishes to you all,

Martin F. White

SUPERINTENDENT

DR. CHARLES L. BOWLBY
Superintendent

MR. SPENCER R. POTTER
Assistant Superintendent

Dear Seniors:

Since high school days I have collected lines and verses which today speak my philosophy better than I can write it. These I will share with you and hope you may find a message, a light, or a thought to guide you in your long journey into the future.

"We lack the courage to be where we are
We love too much to travel on old roads to tramp on old fields; we love too much to consecrate the magic of dead things."

Tennyson

"Youth is not a time of life—it is a state of mind; it is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions, a predominance of courage over timidity . . . You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubts; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear, as young as your hope, as old as your despair."

Sincerely,

S. Ullman

Mr. Henry S. Miles, Miss Doris G. Guertin, Mr. Charles W. Bartlett, Mr. John C. Bigelow.

To the Class of 1963

It has been our pleasure to see you mature intellectually, socially, and emotionally. We hope that in some small way we have helped you plan realistically for the future.

Our association need not end now. We want you to continue to use our facilities. The Guidance Department will be contacting you for information in our five-year follow-up study.

We wish for you success and happiness.

Most sincerely,

Charles Bartlett

Foresight—determination and spirit—success—these have constituted our principles at Wachusett. We, the class of 1963, through four years of work and activity together—studying, laughing, crying—have sought and attained the highest standards for both ourselves and our school. Now, as graduation closes the doors on our high school experiences, we present this yearbook as a record, as a memory, as an insight into the future.

HISTORY OF THE

There have been moments in history that will live forever because of their impact on humanity. However, none has approached the startling effect achieved by the advent of the class of 1963 on the hallowed halls of Wachusett Regional High School. We had been preceded by several imperfect, experimental forms, bloated with conceit and self importance. But only in the class of 1963 were the full potentials of the super race finally recognized. The old professor who had created this masterpiece died with the secret locked up in his fertile brain. And so it is left to us to tell our own story; to write the beginning of an epic which will live as long as mankind; to sing the song of songs about the race of races.

With such a stupendous record of success to describe, it is difficult to maintain our usual unrestrained modesty. However, with a "superhuman" effort, we have managed to relate only the amazing facts.

It came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from our Caesar, that the super race should choose their leaders. And, unlike the inferior ones who had gone before them and would come after them, they chose wisely. They picked officers unparalleled in initiative and intuitiveness, and unapproachable in proximity to perfection. President, John Kingdon; Vice-President, Richard Munoz; Secretary, Ellen Farrell; Treasurer, Kristina Johnson. Student Council Members; Linda Bailey, Eileen Lornez, Sue Pitcher, and Karen Coyle. For the May Queen Contest, we picked two of our loveliest girls, Linda Bailey and Candy Holmes. And they were the most beautiful of all in the court.

A year passed and we enriched all with which we came in contact. A rich, lustrous glow seemed to emanate from Wachusett and the other, less fortunate classes realized our superiority and showed us the proper deference and respect. The members of our class dominated the athletic teams and the clubs. We were in our accustomed position of leadership. Linda Bailey and Sue Pitcher astounded observers with their loveliness in the May Queen Contest. And we were loved and content with our glorious leaders: President, Richard Muñoz; Vice-President, Herbert Waterhouse; Secretary, Marcia

CLASS OF 1963

Owen; Treasurer, Doug Cole; and Student Council; John Kingdon, Eileen Lorenz, Sue Pitcher, and Linda Bailey.

Sue Pitcher and Ellen Farrell set the pattern for our Junior Year as they shone above all others in the May Court. So did we shine above all the others in the school. When compared to us, other classes were but feeble candles next to the sun. We were supreme and unapproachable. Leading us on to the greatness that had been foreseen were President, Richard Munoz; Vice-President, Robert Scott; Secretary, Marcia Owen; and Treasurer, Doug Cole. Bill Watts, Eileen Lorenz, Sue Pitcher, and Linda Bailey played a distinguished role in the Student Council and the class as a whole continued to earn universal respect and reverence. People went into ecstatic raptures while describing the Junior Prom, "Stardust," as "the best ever" and the class as "the best workers we have ever had." Linda Larson reigned as the lovely queen, with Cordee Turner, Nancy Eckert, Sharon Krikorian, and Doreen Olson as the beauteous court.

After such a stupendous Junior Year, it seemed impossible that we would improve as Seniors. But somehow we rose to the occasion and, with our innate strength of character, surmounted the last barriers that separated us from the summit of Olympus. We were now truly Gods. And all wondered at us and marvelled that we could be so perfect and still retain our modesty. Our excellence was exemplified in our officers: President, Richard Munoz; Vice-President, Danny O'Connor; Secretary, Marcia Owen; and Treasurer, Doug Cole. Eileen Lorenz, as President of the Student Council, was ably assisted by the other Senior members; John Lemoine, Sue Pitcher, and Linda Bailey. Our Senior play, The Inspector General, was the funniest ever seen in the Wachusett Auditorium. And all felt honored to have been in our presence and to have known the master race.

We have left many outstanding records and we cannot be forgotten, for we gave so much.

But there were four years, and now they are gone. We cannot bring them back. They will exist only as yesterdays, as memories. But they were here—and now they are gone.

WILL OF THE

We, the glorious Class of 1963, having so blessed the underclassmen with our presence, do hereby bequeath the following to perpetuate their memories of us.

Dean Adams, who's used to looking down on people, leaves his height to Mary Ellen Holbrook, who doesn't do so badly herself.

Joanne Luhta leaves her shoes to Timmy "I can wear the shoe boxes" Reidy.

Richard Fogg leaves in one.

Tom "Who's a blow?" Hardy leaves in a gust of hot air.

Sally Arlin leaves her beautiful voice to Judy "Well, I try" Bruso.

Beth Curran leaves her talkative nature to Emil Koenig.

Al "I like Ike" Ikalainen leaves an elephant for Camp David.

Teddy Lundberg leaves his orange socks to Donald Wyman, to go with his hair.

Judy Eales leaves Latin IV to Jean Connor, who we're sure will appreciate it.

Bobby Rauh leaves his Atlas Body Building set to Phil Desrosier who would like to be as big as he is.

Jerry Bottcher leaves his barbers to the unemployment bureau.

Brenda Nelson leaves her brown nose to the cooks, who haven't got anything brown yet.

Elaine White leaves for her John.

Nicole Brennan leaves her caterpillar to the Cocoon Club.

Eileen Lorenz leaves her runny nylons to next year's baseball team, which needs the runs.

Kenny Frye would leave with his best foot forward if he could only get it out of his mouth.

Sheila Smith leaves her rumbling voice to Patsy "squeak" Bates.

Tom "Retsu" Rist departs for Japan.

Paul Robinson leaves for the beach where he likes to sit and watch the seagulls.

Karen "Who's got smokers cough?" Coyle leaves her pack of Winstons to the J.V. Cheerleader who takes her place.

Jessica "Variety is the spice of life" Keyman leaves an admonition to "Dodo" Erickson who seems to have already received the message.

Wayne "Let me take a shot" Manilla leaves his glass to Milton Carstedt.

Dwight Lindquist leaves his car so Bernie Nelson can ruin it.

Steve Crosby leaves his wise remarks to Joyce Bruinsma, who has a lot of her own.

James Cutroni leaves, looped.

Carlyn Clark leaves dribbling her basketball.

Skippy Trotter and Bob Clouthier leave—we hope.

Dave "Cow" Hutlin leaves for greener pastures.

Betsy Holt leaves for the pastures, looking for a 'better "Cow."

Ronnie "Crow" Marsh leaves a worm to Dave Burke.

The Senior Class leaves a box of stars to the Math Department in case anyone needs them.

Lester Prinsen departs.

Paul "Shoeball" Anderson leaves chomping on his gum.

Rick "I got a new one every week" Lloyd leaves all his ex-girl friends to the Junior Class if they have enough boys.

Walter Barys leaves, skipping.

Ruthy Wandland leaves her long hair to Donna "It's nice, but I can't see where I'm going" Blair.

Richard Muñoz leaves a bottle of MAN TAN to George Najemy, who doesn't need it either.

Tim Kelly leaves his hair to Bob "who's bald?" Sprague.

Courtney "Chip" Wilson leaves his nickname to Glen Parks who has one on his shoulder.

Brooks "if you open your eyes you'll" Seymour Webster leaves the remains of his "bird" to Harry Fiske, who's catty enough to chase it.

Mary "it's like being a lady cop" Hall leaves her monitor post to Sandy "wherever I park they pinch me" MacGregor.

Barbara Urbanovitch leaves her Driver-Ed little pink book to Gary Bagdasarian to go with his little black book.

Vicky Farrell leaves her belly laugh to anyone who can stomach it.

Bob "Scotty" Scott leaves his old jalopy to Pete Johnson, who's already thinking of giving it back.

Mary "I prefer Bach to Beethoven" Davis leaves her appreciation for good music to the Freshmen, who don't seem to appreciate anything.

Douglas Cole departs on his scooter, without paying his dues.

"Jungle" Jane Morrissey leaves an egg to Sandy Caloiaro.

Therese Langevin leaves, falling down the stairs.

Kenny "Mother Hen" Helleberg leaves a dozen eggs to the Aggie Department.

Linda "Lulu" Flodstrom leaves looking for Tubby.

Ted Butler leaves his transmission to Joe "hard luck story" Manning.

Donald and Philip Churchey leave for Siam to separate Siamese twins.

Harriet Degenhardt leaves everyone wondering what's in her pocketbook.

Pat Dillow leaves for a Clark fraternity party.

Judy Abell leaves with John Genis still trying to count her freckles.

Margie "you don't need it all anyway" Adams leaves with the entire contents of the Chemistry Lab.

Jerry Boynton leaves, still searching Clinton for his license.

Anne Cooke leaves hoping for a future as bright as her blond hair.

Old John McDonnell leaves his farm.

Michael "it melts in your mouth, not in your hands" Maloney leaves his candy factory to Mathew "M&M" Mor-kavage.

Dennis Lindstrom leaves his job at King's to Nat Lindquist so that he can quit his paper route.

Donna Longvall leaves her long ride home to Judy Bourque,

CLASS OF 1963

John Lanpher leaves his good looks to Joe Paquette who thinks he doesn't need them.

Jeff Larson leaves his left handed jump shot to John Allison who already is left handed.

Carol LaMarche leaves her Air Force boyfriends to Mary Streeter who seems to go from feast to famine.

Richard Parkinson leaves his "disease" to the nurse.

Steve Romkey leaves with three cars but no license.

To the incoming Freshmen, we leave our regrets that they were never blessed with our acquaintance.

George Festa leaves his class ring to Andrea Erickson, because it will just about fit around Lenny's neck.

Ellen "I think the holes are distinctive" Farrell leaves her sneakers to Mary De Noyer, who's from Sterling and is used to going barefoot.

Lee "You mean I finally made Varsity Cheerleaders!" Davis, leaves her bouncing vitality to Sue Peterson, who definitely needs it.

Lorraine Sullivan leaves her bond hair to Sharon Lyra, who has approached it but never quite made it.

Oliver "Twist" Kennerson leaves his loose fitting "U T" pants to Bob Savage, who'll never get in them anyway.

William Johnson leaves, still trying to put four in what should be a floor.

Herby "thank goodness I ran the right way" Waterhouse leaves an 80-yard touchdown to Elmer Ream.

John Ellis leaves a package of Senior Play tickets to next year's Publicity Director.

Carol Ellstrom leaves her lunch of a hard boiled egg and a pear to Steffie Pielaszyk who may need it.

Dick Renard leaves his easygoing nature to Jake "Who says I've got a temper?" Schang.

Donald Pelley leaves his trumpet stuffed and mounted in the trophy case.

Francis Murphy leaves, after only one year.

Kathleen Leavenworth leaves the freshman boys to the freshman girls, who don't want them anyhow.

Kirk Bodwell leaves, immediately preceded by his appetite.

Will Erickson leaves his ability to sleep under duress to George Drawbridge who is seemingly never awake.

Bill "Flash" Kelleher leaves his unbearable conceit to Wayne "Gusty" Gustafson.
